DETAILED ACTION

Response to Amendment

Response to Arguments

1. Applicant's arguments filed on February 5, 2009 have been fully considered and are persuasive. The rejection of the claims under 35 U.S.C 101 has been withdrawn.
2. This final office action is in response to the amendment filed on July 7, 2008. The new ground of rejection is necessitated by the amendment to the claims.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

3. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

4. Claims 1, 8, 12 and 16 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Minato Sukeyuki (JP 2003-162014, translation of which is available on JP website), and further in view of Applicant's Admitted Prior Art (AAPA).

Regarding claim 1, Minato discloses a method for controlling ON/OFF switching of a light source in a scanner (abstract, drawing 1). Minato does not explicitly disclose the use of a white light LED as the LED light source. Using this type of light is well known in the art as disclosed by AAPA (figures 1 and 2). Combination of Minato and AAPA discloses the steps of:

switching the white light LED on and off at least once during a predetermined reading cycle time interval while a complete sequence of optical signals of the reading cycle of the scanner is received by the scanner (paragraphs [0024 and 0033].

Regarding claim 8, Minato discloses the method of claim 1, wherein the scanner reads the optical signals through a charge-coupled device (CCD) (drawing 1, sensor 20).

Regarding claim 12, combination of Minato and AAPA discloses a method for controlling ON/OFF switching of an LED light source in a scanner (see the discussion under claim 1), comprising the steps of:

switching the LED light source ON and OFF multiple times while an optical signal is received by the scanner (paragraph [0024]).

Regarding claim 16, combination of Minato and AAPA discloses the method of claim 12, wherein the scanner reads red/green/blue optical signals when the LED is switched ON (paragraph [0020]).

Allowable Subject Matter

5. Claims 4-7, 9-11 and 13-15 are objected to as being dependent upon a rejected base claim, but would be allowable if rewritten in independent form including all of the limitations of the base claim and any intervening claims.

Conclusion

6. THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37

CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the mailing date of this final action.
